FOREWORD

In today's world of growing economic interdependence, the role of the international marketplace is becoming increasingly important to American business. The world market represents more than just a vast field of opportunity for many manufacturers and service firms. With increased foreign competition, exporting may actually in many cases be necessary for long-term success of a business.

At present, the United States is experiencing an unfavorable balance of international trade. As part of the U.S. strategy to correct this situation, the U.S. Small Business Administration has targeted export expansion as a high priority. The role which small business can play in the world market is significant. There are thousands of American firms with the potential to export which do not yet do so, and many others which export on a small scale but which have not yet reached their full export potential. However, breaking into the export market is often perceived as too complex and difficult, and potential is left untapped.

There are numerous programs at the state and local level which provide assistance to the potential or beginning exporter. Many service firms are also in the business of export assistance, such as banks, export management companies, consultants and international freight forwarders.

The U.S. Small Business Administration is pleased to be able to present this International Trade State and Local Resource Directory for the Territory of Guam. Used in conjunction with the Exporter's Guide to Federal Resources for Small Business, this directory should provide a small business with the ability to locate and exploit the various forms of export assistance available. With such assistance, the process of entering the export market or expanding existing exports can be made considerably easier.

Small businesses are also encouraged to contact the nearest offices of the U.S. Small Business Administration and the U.S. Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration. Both agencies provide numerous programs and services for export assistance, and their local offices are listed at the beginning of this directory.

The U.S. Small Business Administration is dedicated to assisting small businesses enter the international marketplace. Exporting means increased business and profits for small business, more jobs for all Americans, and reduction of our national trade deficit. Together, we can help improve America's balance of trade and economic vitality.

PREFACE

Every effort has been made to make this directory as accurate, complete and up-to-date as possible. However, the U.S. Small Business Administration accepts no responsibility for any inaccuracies or omissions, which are of a purely inadvertent nature. Any changes or omissions should be brought to the attention of the Small Business Administration (SBA), which will seek to include them in future editions of this directory. Changes or additions can be made using the form at the end of this directory and should be addressed to:

U.S. SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATIO AND U.S. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE OFFICES

The offices of the SBA and the U.S. Department of Commerce are two of the first places a current or potential small business exporter should look for assistance. Both agencies offer a variety of services.

Services provided by the SBA include educational seminars and conferences on exporting, financial assistance, and initial market studies through the Export Information System. The Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) provides one-on-one counseling by retired executives with years of business and international experience. Counseling and other export assistance is also available through SBA's cooperative effort with the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) and Small Business Institute (SBI) networks, located at numerous colleges and universities. In cooperation with the Federal Bar Association, the SBA can also provide initial legal consulting on exporting.

The U.S. Department of Commerce offers a wide range of valuable information for exporters. Through its many overseas offices, the Department of Commerce can provide in-depth information on overseas markets, uncover trade leads, and develop overseas contacts. It can research the export potential of a particular product. The Department of Commerce conducts overseas trade missions and catalog exhibitions, and assists firms participating in overseas trade shows. It also conducts export seminars and workshops, often in cooperation with the SBA.

The following listing includes territory agencies involved in international trade. Listings are accompanied by a description of the international trade services offered.

Guam Department of Commerce
590 S. Marine Drive, Suite 601
Tamuning, Guam 96911
(671) 646-5841

The Guam Department of Commerce serves as a clearinghouse for information on international trade and business development.

PORT AUTHORITIES

In addition to packing and shipping, port authorities provide general information on exporting and importing, potential foreign markets, buyers and representatives, and overseas projects.

In cases where port authorities offer special services for exporters, that information is included below.

Port Authority of Guam
1026 Cabras Highway, Suite 201
Piti, Guam 96925
(671) 477-9931

The Authority manages, operates and maintains its seaport terminal facilities to promote Guam's commerce and trade. The Port maintains equipment for handling cargo to and from vessels and within the yard. This equipment enables the Port to accomplish all cargo handling operations with the port facilities. It establishes port tariffs and cargo handling rates.

FOREIGN SALES CORPORATION

Guam Foreign Sales Corporation Management & Export Trading Co., Inc.
P.O. Box 21479
GMF, Guam 96921
(671) 472-2741/8375

The Guam FSC provides and organizes the development of foreign investment sales within Guam. It prepares and develops the Articles of Incorporation and obtains business licenses for foreign companies. It also maintains the records and acts as a custodian for the companies.

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Some chambers of commerce are actively involved in the promotion of international trade. In cases where chambers of commerce offer international trade services, they are listed below, along with a summary of services provided.

Guam Chamber of Commerce
102 ADA Plaza Center
P.O. Box 283
Agana, Guam 96910
(671) 472-6311/8001

The Chamber promotes the area's economy and encourages business and industrial development. To business prospects and newcomers, the Chamber represents the community's "front door."

FOREIGN CONSULATES

Generally, the consulates that are the most helpful are those with commercial liaison offices. They provide general information about doing business in their countries and offer assistance to U.S. firms seeking names of overseas sources of supply. They may also be able to provide background reports on firms located in their home countries and assistance in translation, particularly for those U.S. firms interested in purchasing products from their home country.

The level of representation is indicated in parentheses after the name of the country: (C) indicates a consulate, (CG) a consulate general, and (H) indicates honorary status. For those countries which do not maintain a consulate in Guam (or which have only an honorary consul), all Washington embassies are listed under a separate heading in the next section. An embassy can direct an inquiry to the out-of-area consulate or the local honorary consulate with responsibility for Guam.
